You can expect savings, energy efficiency and long life from your Energizer[®] LEDs.

The reason why: lumens.

What's a lumen? A measurement of light intensity (brightness) that helps calculate energy efficiency. The more lumens a bulb puts out per watt, the more energy efficient the bulb is.

LEDs maximize the lumen output more than any other bulb. Plus they don't emit light through a filament or gas, so they light up immediately with total brightness.

Watt vs. lumen: what's the difference?

- WATT is a measurement of energy usage
- LUMEN is a measurement of light intensity (brightness)

The more lumens a bulb puts out per watt, the more energy efficient the bulb is.

Log Files

An IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you are surfing on the Web. Web servers automatically will identify a computer by its IP address. We use IP addresses to analyze trends, administer the site, track users' movement and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. IP addresses are not linked to personally identifiable information.

Sharing

At times, we may be working with third-party companies to execute a specific promotion or program. If the information is to be shared with any third party for the purposes of executing a specific promotion or program, the details will be clearly communicated in the program's rules for the specific program or promotion, and the third party will have no right to use the information for independent purposes. When a user signs up for these services, he or she will have to opt-in to permit Energizer to share names or other contact information necessary for the third party to provide these services. These third parties are not allowed to use personally identifiable information, except for the purpose of providing these services. In support of this policy, Energizer will enter into written agreements with all third parties to ensure that they will meet privacy standards, including the privacy standards of COPPA and the U.S. Commerce Department Safe Harbor provisions.

Links

If this website contains links to other sites, please be aware that Energizer is not responsible for the privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of each and every website that collects personally identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by this website.

Security

This website takes every precaution to secure our users' information. When users submit personally identifiable information via the website, your information is protected both online and off-line. If you have any questions about the security at our website, you can send an e-mail to webmaster@energizer.com.

Correction/Updating Personal Information

If a user's personally identifiable information changes (such as your zip code), or if a user no longer desires our service, we will endeavor to provide a way to correct, update or remove that user's personal data provided to us. This can usually be done by e-mailing our Customer Support.

Choice/Opt-in

As noted above, any information collected by Energizer is for special offer fulfillment purposes only, and that information is destroyed once the request or offer has been fulfilled. However, if you choose to opt-in for future offers and updates, your information will be kept in a secure database in order to alert you via e-mail to new features, special offers, updated information and new services. Users who provide information at the time of registration or other submission will be asked whether they wish to receive future offers and information from the website and may opt-in at that time by checking the appropriate opt-in box on the page where such personal information is collected.

Users of our site are always notified when their information is being collected for use by any third parties (see Sharing above). We do this so our users can make an informed choice as to whether or not they should proceed with services that require sharing their personal information with a third party.

Notification of Changes

If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on our Homepage, so our users are always aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and under what circumstances, if any, we disclose it. If at any point we decide to use personally identifiable information in a manner different from that stated at the time it was collected, we will notify users by way of an e-mail. Users will have a choice as to whether or not we use their information in this different manner.

We will always use information in accordance with the privacy policy under which the information was collected.

COPPA Compliance

This website allows individuals of any age to participate in our online offers, unless stated otherwise. In order to participate in any online offers, any child under the age of 18 need only provide us with his or her e-mail address. This information is used for the sole purpose of fulfilling a one-time request and will be immediately deleted upon fulfillment of the one-time request. Energizer does not allow individuals under the age of 18 to opt-in to receive future e-mailings. Therefore, Energizer does not knowingly collect data for individuals that identify themselves as children under the age of 18.

If an opt-in request for a child under the age of 18 is knowingly received by Energizer, we will delete all personally identifiable information (including e-mail address) concerning that child from the database. That information will in no way be used or given to a third party. If a parent discovers that his or her child has submitted personal information to Energizer via the Energizer website, they can remove their child from our database by sending an e-mail to webmaster@energizer.com, or by postal mail at the address:
